

Recovery in Progress We Appreciate Your Patience

Hurricane Helene's devastating effects were felt throughout the Southeast. Wind, rain, and flooding affected many parts of Georgia, the Carolinas, and Tennessee. The mountains of the Carolinas suffered unprecedented damage resulting in landslides, road closures, and an overall impact on critical infrastructure. With SFREP staff located in North and South Carolina, many were without power and internet for a week or more. We appreciate your patience during that time.

We sincerely hope that any of our customers who were affected by Helene or Milton have weathered these storms and are working toward a full recovery.

Thank you again for your concerns and patience. The SFREP staff are back in full attendance and all departments are ready to assist our customers.
